

AI Regulatory Readiness and Response

Overview

Organizations adopting AI face increasing regulatory requirements. Proving AI governance maturity requires more than internal claims, it demands structured alignment with regulations such as the ISO 42001, the emerging global standard for AI management systems.

At K logix, our experts bridge the gap between regulatory expectations and practical AI operations. With deep experience in cybersecurity, compliance, and governance, we guide organizations to achieve and maintain ISO 42001 or other regulatory alignment.
